Website Development Brief — Kgariya Attorneys Incorporated

Date 26 October 2026

Purpose

Kgariya Attorneys Incorporated needs its website rebuilt to match where the firm is going. The firm is diversifying beyond property and conveyancing into commercial litigation and arbitration, mining-adjacent work, and agricultural and development finance. It also plans to grow by acquiring or merging with practices of retiring attorneys.

The new site must do three jobs: win litigation and arbitration mandates, support bank and lender panel applications, and reassure clients of acquired practices that their matters are in good hands.

Current site review

The current site is a WordPress build whose pages were last modified in June 2021. It has six pages: Home, About, Services, Values, Clients and Contacts.

Area	Current state	Change needed
Positioning	About page describes a general corporate and commercial firm	Lead with litigation and arbitration, backed by property, finance and mining-adjacent depth
Services	One long page listing six broad areas and more than 40 sub-services, including competition, aviation and immigration law	Cut to the focus areas, each on its own page with scope and representative matters
People	No attorney profiles	Profile for the director, with qualifications and practice focus; space for future attorneys
Credibility	No case highlights, panel memberships, accreditations or B-BBEE level	Add representative matters (anonymised), panels, B-BBEE certificate and memberships
Content	No insights, articles or news	Add an Insights section for legal updates
Group	No link to the wider Kgariya & Co group	Short group page linking property, construction and finance entities
Compliance	Cookie preference centre only	Add privacy policy, PAIA manual and LPC-required firm disclosures
Technical	Mixed http and https links; ageing slider plugin	Full HTTPS, current theme and plugins, faster load times
Contact	Generic info@ address and phone	Enquiry form routed by practice area, map, and

Area	Current state	Change needed
		direct contacts

Source: kgariyainc.co.za, Services and About pages, reviewed 26 October 2026.

Firm direction the site must reflect

The firm is positioning as a Pretoria commercial disputes and finance practice with deep property and real estate development packaging expertise. The site should present the practice areas in this order:

1. Commercial litigation and arbitration: banking and finance disputes, construction disputes, insurance claims, commercial contract and franchise disputes; High Court and AFSA arbitration.
2. Real estate development packaging: structuring and packaging development projects from land acquisition to funding close, including feasibility and cost modelling, land assembly and acquisition agreements, township establishment, rezoning and land-use approvals, NHBRC enrolment, development finance applications to banks and DFIs, SHRA and subsidised housing projects, joint ventures, and end-user finance packages.
3. Mining and resources (mining-adjacent): mining finance and security, mineral rights transfers and registration, surface rights and land access, community and social labour plan agreements, mining disputes.
4. Agricultural and development finance: Land Bank and agri-lender work, mortgage bonds over farm land, notarial bonds over movables.
5. Banking and finance: loan and security documentation, property and development finance, workouts.
6. Conveyancing and property: transfers, bond registrations for bank panels, development and sectional title work, notarial services.

Tone: confident, plain-language and results-focused. Avoid generic claims such as "exceeding client expectations"; show capability through matters, credentials and people.

Remove or demote: competition, aviation and immigration law, and other services the firm is not actively pursuing.

Key credentials to feature: the director's LLB, MBA in Finance, Postgraduate Diploma in Real Estate Development and Management (Wits), UCT Property Development Programme, Wits mining certificates, prior experience handling Land Bank matters at AFGRI, and hands-on development experience through the Kgariya & Co group (residential and mixed-use projects, SHRA housing, and property portfolio management as former CEO of a property company).

Design reference

The firm likes the look, feel and interactivity of Manala & Co (manala-inc.co.za). Use it as a reference for structure and interaction, not as a template: the design, copy, imagery and branding must be original to Kgariya Attorneys.

Look and feel to aim for

- Formal, premium and professional, with short, confident headlines

- Strong emphasis on confidentiality, compliance and trust
- Generous use of professional photography of the office and the team

Features to adapt

Feature	How to use it for Kgariya Attorneys
Top bar and header	Phone, email and office hours; site search; a "Request a call back" button
Hero slider	Rotating slides with "Book a consultation" and "Our practice areas" buttons
Trust strip and compliance badges	LPC, POPIA, PAIA and B-BBEE badges near the top and in the footer
Animated counters	Years in practice, practice areas, matters handled, bonds registered
"Three questions" enquiry flow	Short guided quiz that routes visitors to the right practice area
Director's welcome	Portrait and short welcome message from the director
Practice area cards	Numbered, colour-coded cards for the six practice areas, each linking to its own page
Representative matters cards	Anonymised matter cards with outcome labels, cleared for publication
Online booking calendar	Date picker for consultations by video, phone or in person
Engagement journey stepper	Interactive steps from first enquiry to matter close, with a progress bar
Fee models	Hourly, fixed-fee and retainer options explained
Sectors	Cards for banks and lenders, developers, mining, agriculture, public sector
FAQ accordion	Expandable answers to common client questions
Conflict-check notice	Warning not to send confidential documents before a conflict check and mandate

All features, especially matter values, outcomes and testimonials, must be checked against the LPC Code of Conduct rules on marketing before going live.

Required pages

Page	Content
Home	Positioning statement, the six practice areas as cards, credentials strip (panels, B-BBEE, memberships), latest insights, enquiry call to action
Practice areas (one page each)	Scope of services, typical clients, representative matters, lead attorney, enquiry form
Our people	Director profile with photo and credentials; template for additional attorneys and candidate attorneys
About the firm	History, values, location, B-BBEE status, professional memberships
Kgariya & Co group	Short overview of the group entities with links
Insights	Articles, legal updates and case notes, filterable by practice area
Joining the firm	Succession and practice-transition page for retiring practitioners considering a merger or handover; confidential enquiry form
Careers	Vacancies and articles of clerkship
Contact	Practice-routed enquiry form, map, direct email and phone
Legal	Privacy policy, PAIA manual, cookie policy, website terms and LPC disclosures

The "Joining the firm" page supports the acquisition strategy. It should invite confidential conversations and stress continuity for clients and staff, without making any public statement about specific transactions.

Functional and compliance requirements

Compliance

- Privacy policy, consent on all forms, and cookie consent that meet POPIA
- PAIA manual published and linked in the footer
- Firm disclosures required of attorneys' websites under the LPC Code of Conduct, including registration details and directors' names; all content to comply with the Code's rules on advertising and marketing (the firm will confirm final wording)
- No client names, case numbers or confidential details in representative matters unless already public or consented to

Functionality

- Mobile-first, responsive design; page load under 3 seconds
- Enquiry forms routed to the right inbox by practice area, with spam protection
- Content management that lets the firm add insights, matters and people without the developer
- Full HTTPS, current CMS version, security plugins and daily backups
- Analytics with POPIA-compliant consent

Search visibility

- Search-optimised pages for each practice area, targeting Pretoria and Gauteng searches
- Google Business Profile and structured data for a law firm
- Redirects from all old URLs to new pages

Phased rollout

The site should launch in three phases so it grows with the firm.

Phase	Timing	Scope
1. Relaunch	Months 0–2	New design, six practice-area pages, director profile, compliance pages, practice-routed contact forms, redirects
2. Credibility	Months 3–9	Representative matters, panel and B-BBEE credentials, first 6 insights articles, Joining the firm page, group page
3. Growth	Months 10–24	Profiles for attorneys joining through acquisitions, client-transition notices for merged practices, regular insights, newsletter sign-up

Phase 3 depends on the acquisition timeline. The CMS must make it easy to add people and practice pages without a redesign.